

I support the segmentation of the 160 meter band. As a CW operator who often works DX I find that the limited bandwidth available causes interference from different modes of transmission trying to share the band. Current users share many different facets of ham radio (DX, rag chewing, nets, contests). Segmentation will clear much of the interference caused by other modes and activities.